Ja'far bin Abi Talib

"He [Isa (Jesus)] said: Verily! I am a slave of Allāh, He has given me the Scripture and made me a Prophet; and He has made me blessed wheresoever I be, and has enjoined on me Salāt (prayer), and Zakāt, as long as I live." And dutiful to my mother, and made me not arrogant, unblest. And Salām (peace) be upon me the day I was born, and the day I die, and the day I shall be raised alive!" (Maryam 19:30-33)

Al-Najashi and his Christian scholars cried when they heard it. He recognized that it was revealed from Allah and told the Quraysh he would never give them the Muslims.

The messengers from the Quraysh were not happy so they tried again to turn the king against the Muslims. They told the king that the Muslims speak badly of Isa ibn Maryam. They knew that as a Christian, Al-Najashi would be very angry if he thought the Muslims insulted Isa.

Al-Najashi asked them what they say about Isa ibn Maryam. Ja'far replied with what the Prophet had told them, Isa is a slave of Allah, a prophet from Him that Allah had placed in Maryam while she was unmarried. Al-Najashi agreed and remained happy to protect them.

The Muslims remained in the kingdom in safety and Ja'far had three sons while he was there Abdullah, Muhammad and 'Awn. Despite their welcome, the migrants missed their home and families. After the hijrah to Madinah, the Prophet called for them to return to join the expedition to Khaybar.

Ja'far travelled to the battle hoping to join but it was over by the time he arrived. The Prophet said "I am not sure which of the two I should celebrate: the arrival of Ja'far or the fall of Khaybar."

Ja'far bin Abi Talib

Ja'far bin Abi Talib was a great companion and cousin to the Messenger of Allah. He was one of the first to believe in the Prophet, made hijrah twice and died fighting for the sake of Allah. His life was full of brave, generous, noble and pious actions that we can be inspired by.

Ja'far bin Abi Talib was the brother of the rightly guided caliph, Ali. His father was the uncle of the Prophet, Abu Talib and so he was the Prophet's cousin. His full name was Ja'far bin Abi Talib bin Abdul-Muttalib Al-Qurashi Al-Hashimi. He also had two kunyahs, Abul-Masakin (Father of the Needy) and Dhul-Janahain (Possessor of the Two Wings).

kunya: a title or word implying or expressing respect.

pagan: a person who worships many gods or goddesses or the earth or nature.

As two of the earliest Muslims, Ja'far and his wife Asma faced oppression and harm from the pagan Quraysh of Makkah so they made hijrah to Abyssinia. They travelled to the kingdom of Aksum because there was a king who was fair to his people there.

This king was a Christian called al-Najashi and he welcomed the Muslims as his guests. The Quraysh sent gifts for al-Najashi and asked him to return the Muslims to them. They said that the Muslims were young people who had made up a strange new religion and that the Quraysh knew best how to deal with them.

Al-Najashi refused to send them back until he had asked the Muslims about what the Quraysh had said. Ja'far ibn Abi Talib bravely spoke oppression: treatment of (a person or group of people) in a cruel or unfair way.

for the Muslims and told the king how the Quraysh had oppressed them badly when they became Muslim so they had come to him for protection.

Al-Najashi asked if they had anything that was revealed from Allah so Ja'far recited the beginning of Surah Maryam up to the following verse:

Ja'far bin Abi Talib

"He [ʿĪsā (Jesus)] said: Verily! I am a slave of Allāh, He has given me the Scripture and made me a Prophet; and He has made me blessed wheresoever I be, and has enjoined on me Salât (prayer), and Zakât, as long as I live." And dutiful to my mother, and made me not arrogant, unblest. And Salâm (peace) be upon me the day I was born, and the day I die, and the day I shall be raised alive!" (Maryam 19:30-33)

Al-Najashi and his Christian scholars cried when they heard it. He recognized that it was revealed from Allah and told the Quraysh he would never give them the Muslims.

The messengers from the Quraysh were not happy so they tried again to turn the king against the Muslims. They told the king that the Muslims speak badly of Isa ibn Maryam ﷺ. They knew that as a Christian, Al-Nasjashi would be very angry if he thought the Muslims insulted Isa ﷺ.

Al-Nasjashi asked them what they say about Isa ibn Maryam ﷺ. Ja'far replied with what the Prophet ﷺ had told them, Isa is a slave of Allah, a prophet from Him that Allah had placed in Maryam while she was unmarried. Al-Najashi agreed and remained happy to protect them.

Ja'far bin Abi Talib

Al-Haarith, the leader of the Ghassanids (an Arab tribe), killed a number of Muslims sent to call people to Islam. He also boasted that he would invade the Arabian peninsula and occupy Al-Madinah. The Messenger ﷺ sent an army of 3000 warriors to fight him and instructed them “Zayd bin Harithah is the Commander of the army; if he is killed, then Ja’far bin Abi Talib will take the command; if he is killed, then ‘Abdullah bin Rawahah will take the command.”

3000 Muslims bravely fought the combined Arab and Roman army of 200,000. The Roman army with their steel weapons and armour expected the battle of Mu'tah to be over in an hour. Instead, the Muslims bravely resisted for 5 days. Some Romans turned and fled in the face of their courage. On the sixth day, the attacks became more fierce and their leader, Zayd bin Harithah ﷺ died leaving Ja’far ﷺ the commander. He fiercely fought until he too died. Abdullah bin Rawahah ﷺ assumed command and was in his turn killed. Khalid bin al-Waleed ﷺ using his military genius, made the enemy believe reinforcements had arrived from Madinah, killed many of the enemy and safely led his troops in retreat.

When the Messenger ﷺ heard of Ja’far’s death he visited his family, hugged his sons, shed tears of sadness and made du’aa for them. He also told Ja’far’s wife that Allah had given Ja’far ﷺ two wings with which he flies in Paradise.

Ja’far ﷺ spent his life seeking Allah’s pleasure and has left an example of a life of bravery and sacrifice. May Allah reward him and have mercy upon him.
